Andrea Halling

Physics and Biology Teaching Major, Chemistry Minor
Senior

A few things about me:

My name is Andrea Halling and am a senior majoring in Physics and Biology Teaching with a Chemistry minor. I will be graduating in May of 2016. While attending Utah State University, I have had the opportunity to be involved with undergraduate research, Engineers Without Borders, Science Ambassadors, and many other extracurricular activities such as being an SI leader for Biology 1610/1620 and a lab TA for Physics 1200.

I grew up in Hyde Park, Utah and currently lives in Logan with my husband, Ben. Upon graduation, I plans to continue my education and pursue a master's degree in synthetic biology. I am passionate about science and teaching and is excited to find a career where I will be able to utilize that passion to help students succeed.
