Dr. Karen Kapheim and undergrad research, Mckenna Johnson study a solitary bee, the alkali bee, to learn about the development of division of labor in other species of social bees. Read the full article by Mary-Ann Muffoletto in UTAH STATE TODAY.